Japanese-American Business Appreciation Reception

To recognize the value of Japanese-American businesses to the Central Ohio economy

The Japan-America Society of Central Ohio (JASCO) requests your participation in an event to recognize the impact of Japanese-American businesses on the economy of Central Ohio. In 2007, Columbus-area automotive manufacturers contributed nearly 14% of the state's manufacturing GDP. This is an increase of 2% from 10 years ago based on a recent report commissioned by CompeteColumbus that looked at the Central Ohio automotive cluster and its impact on the economy. In addition, Ohio is fortunate to have many other Japanese-American businesses who support Ohio's economy. We would like to provide an opportunity for non-Japanese businesses who benefit from the Japanese-American businesses in Ohio to show their appreciation.

For this event, JASCO is working with government officials from the state as well as counties and cities in Central Ohio and the surrounding area. This event will gather top level executives from the Japanese-American businesses, including Tsuneo Tanai, President of Honda America Manufacturing, and top officials from the state, cities and counties where these facilities are located, including Lt. Governor Lee Fisher. JASCO is looking for sponsorship from those corporations who have benefited from the presence of the Japanese-American businesses in Central Ohio. This sponsorship will help recognize the value they bring to the Central Ohio economy.

Sponsorship information is available on the registration panel.
